To Our Valued Customers and Friends,

As most of you all are aware, inflation has taken a hold of our country, and we are continuing to see increasing costs in material pricing and in many cases limited availability. Due to these ever increasing costs related to our raw materials, shipping costs and overall operational costs, we find it necessary for Anemostat Door Products, to be instituting an additional 7% surcharge on top of the 8% Surcharge instituted in July.

This 15% total surcharge on our April 1, 2021 Price List will be for all of our products, effective on orders placed September 27, 2021. Please also understand that we will not be able to honor any quotes over 30 days old.

Please also note that there may be some spot shortages, or delays, particularly on material used for less popular products that are out of the control of Anemostat. Every attempt will be made to notify our customers at the time of the quote or the placement of the Purchase Order, but we cannot be responsible for materials that are not available.

We realize surcharges are not an ideal situation for our customers, but with the ever changing cost structure on many products, we feel it will best handle the current situation.

As always, we appreciate your business and continued support,
